

New Directions in the Study of Alcohol Group Journal 2014 Competition

This prize competition is to submit a paper for publication in the New Directions Journal. The prize for the winning article will be a bursary for free attendance (including registration, accommodation and meals but excluding travel) at our 2014 Conference in Dundee, Scotland. The Prize also includes membership of NDSAG for the year.

Papers should be original work and must not have been previously published. Papers should be up to 5000 words in length and fully referenced. The deadline for submission of papers to the competition is:

7th March 2014

Papers should be submitted as email attachments including your contact details to our Conference Organiser (Andy Perkins) at andyperkins@f8c.co.uk

The annual Ron McKechnie prize is held in fond memory of Ron McKechnie who was one of the founding members of NDSAG and sadly died in 2011.

To learn more about him:
<http://www.guardian.co.uk/theguardian/2011/may/05/ron-mckechnie-obituary/print>

38th Annual
NDSAG Conference
Dates: Wed 23rd - Sat 26th April 2014
Venue: Hilton by Doubletree,
Dundee, Scotland.

Our 2014 conference: Made in Scotland: learning lessons from Scotland's independent approach to tackling alcohol problems will feature 3 distinct research symposiums:

- Will Independence Change Scotland's Relationship with Alcohol?
- What Price a Unit? An exploration of Minimum Unit Pricing research.
- Interventions and research focus—an in-depth look at the broad base of Scottish Alcohol Brief Interventions research.

For more information on the conference or submitting a paper please contact Andy Perkins (Conference Organiser) by e-mailing andyperkins@f8c.co.uk. To book a place at the conference booking forms are available on our website www.newdirections.org.uk