Introductions

Objective

- Raise awareness of NICE implementation tools
- Demonstrate the NICE alcohol services commissioning and benchmarking tool
- Share local commissioning issues and explore the extent to which the commissioning tools can (and sometimes can not) assist with these
- To listen to what commissioners would find useful from future NICE commissioning tools

Implementation Programme

NICE support for commissioners and others using the quality standard on alcohol dependence and harmful alcohol use

August 2011

Introduction

Implementing the recommendations from NICE guidance and other NHS Evidence accredited guidance is the best way to support improvements in the quality of care offered to patients in line with the statements and measures that comprise the NICE quality standards. To support implementation, this document:

- considers the cost of implementing the changes required to achieve the quality standard at a local level
- identifies where potential cost savings can be made
- highlights the areas of care in the quality standard with potential implications for commissioners
- signposts commissioners and service providers to a package of support tools that can assist with the implementation of NICE guidance and service redesign.

Quality, Innovation, Productivity and Prevention (QIPP)

“There are lots of really powerful examples around things we can do to improve quality while improving productivity.”

Sir David Nicholson, NHS Chief Executive

Introduction

NHS Evidence – QIPP is a collection of real examples of how health and social care staff are improving quality and productivity across the NHS and social care. The QIPP collection also has Cochrane topics drawn from systematic reviews by the Cochrane Collaboration that may help inform local initiatives to address the quality and productivity challenge.

Over to you...

- What are the main commissioning issues in the North East?

NICE Commissioning guides

Provide an intuitive, interactive resource that can help commissioners to prepare a business case for change and commission high quality services based on the best available evidence.

The commissioning guide and tool can help you:

- Commission services underpinned by the best available evidence and NICE quality standards
- Aid negotiations between commissioners, providers and other partners
- Commission services taking the whole pathway into account
- Identify local service requirements
- Review current levels of commissioned activity
- Identify future change in capacity required
- Model future commissioning intentions and associated costs
- Calculate the potential set-up and recurrent costs of a service.
